

Hello, my name is Antonio Lula and I'm a 14-year-old Brazilian boy, but I live in Seville, Spain, since 2011. I am studying the fourth year of the secondary at Joaquín Turina School. My favourite subject is English and I am very in love with the language, but I prefer the American English than the British one. I don't have a favourite song, because I can't choose one. This means there are a lot of songs I like, but if I am to choose one, it would be So Will I. My favourite film is Back to the Future and the whole series, and my favourite books are the Bible and The Case for Christ, because I like to understand the evidences about Christianity. My hobbies are playing basketball, listening to music, playing videogames and playing the piano. One of the things that I really love is travelling. I have a beautiful family, one brother, one sister, and my mum and dad. In the future, I want to be a lawyer.
