

Hello everybody!

My name is Saphira Jasmin Jöbstl and I am 15 years old. I currently attend the 5th grade of the grammar school in St.Paul, a few kilometres away from my hometown Wolfsberg. I live there with my mother, father, my younger brother and my cat.

About myself

Me and my favourite horse
Peldash

I have been playing the cello for about seven years now and have had great success with it since I have already played in different ensembles. But that is not my only hobby. One of my favourite hobbies is horse-riding which I have been doing every week for five years now. There are different horses on the ranch and I helped to calm them down to make them easier to ride for younger children. I spend as much time as I can with the horses but also with my cats. I grew up with animals so I am not afraid of any of them.

When I am not at the stable I usually sit somewhere in the house, reading a book which is my great passion. I also like thinking about own stories and write them. Drawing is also a hobby of mine which I do as much as possible. Usually reading and writing calm me down after a very exhausting day.

My family

As I mentioned before I live together with my mother, father and my five-year-old brother in a small house. I got my cat, named Kitty, when I was seven years old for my birthday and now she is nearly everywhere where I am. (And she is very lazy ;-))

We all really like travelling and spending as much time as we can somewhere else. We have already visited many interesting places like an old abandoned castle somewhere in Italy.

My friends

My friends would describe me as a loyal, funny, very ambitious but also a bit crazy. This becomes obvious when I am with my best friend Birgit. When we talk to each other we sometimes switch between languages while speaking. For a few people this may sound crazy but that is our trademark. We do a lot of things together and when one of us needs the other one we are always there and help each other. We can talk about everything and will always stand up for each other.
